Change of name for Cheddar Painting Holidays

To reflect the quality of its holidays, the diversity of its destinations, and an ever-expanding list of popular art tutors, Cheddar Painting Holidays has changed its name to Alpha Painting Holidays. "We have always wanted to bring you a good standard of holiday with Britain's top tutors, staying in lovely hotels," says co-owner, Matt Clark, who started the company in 2008. "We thought that as everyone had a lovely painting holiday adventure with us, there was only one name we could be: Alpha Painting Holidays."

Along with the change of name comes news of more holidays in 2014 to suit all tastes, media and levels:

- Popular art tutor and watercolourist, Gwen Scott, joins Alpha Painting Holiday's list of experienced tutors when she leads a holiday in Wells, Somerset.
- You choose your medium when you book on Noel Gregory's Spanish holiday, located in his home town of Bedar.
- Lagos, Portugal becomes the location for holidays with Becky Samuelson, Tony Slater, Joanne Boon Thomas and Jeremy Ford in March and October 2014.

It's All in the Name: Cheddar Painting Holidays

started in Cheddar but we have grown far beyond Cheddar and thought that our name did not fully reflect what we now do. Therefore, we felt it was time to change our name to something that was all encompassing of all our holiday destinations both now and in the future plus was indicative of how we operate our holidays. We have always wanted to bring you a good standard of holiday with Britain's top tutors staying in lovely hotels and thought that as everyone had "A Lovely Painting Holiday Adventure" with us there was only one name we could be and so we decided to change our name to Alpha Painting Holidays.
